It has ended in ministers or ambassadors being sent to all the most important European Capitals and to the United States. There is no doubt that up to a certain point diplomatic interlooked for change in her administration, which would bring China more upon a level behindhand; and this fact has of late been much emphasised by the marked progress which has been made by her neighbour,

There can be no question that the object last two years has had some effect upon her; though the Chinese are no admirers of the order to improve their country they must go officialdom in the right direction. to the root of matters, and in many respects

A true estimate of what the country is may be obtained from DE Tooqueville's "Demo-All letters for publication should be written on cracy in America," where the author shows depth 494ft. Main seum underlies at a depth that there is a natural limit to absolute power, and that autocratic action is always subjected to limitation and restraint, either by the action of an official entourage or by the working of local influence which cannot be overcome. The latterforce has acquired a proportion in China which few people are disposed to recognise, but of which definite evidence has arisen under special circumstances. The general duties on goods during the quarter amounted only to taels 4,940 (Rs. 11,500 at present exchange), as against | taels 7,3(3 in the corresponding quarter of 1904. From July to September, the trade is always slack on account of the rains, heat and malaria. The unusually great stagnation of the present season is due, among other causes, to the excessively heavy rains, resulting in floods, and consequent breakdown of the roads and bridges, and to a block in the opium trade.

A Singapore Chinaman having photographed a house on the edge of the fortificatione was fined and his camera forfeited. The harshness of this red-tape presecution is being commented on. One correspondent says: -They manage these things better in Hongkong. Some nine years ago three Americans were arrested there on a similar charge. Their camera was taken by the Police and the films developed, the case standing over till the work of development was | insured for $15,000 in the Preussen National finished. When it was found that none of the pictures included views of any fortification, they were released, and the camera and viewsreturned though there were two or three views taken from the roadside immediately adjacent to one of the fortifications which commanded a magnificent view of the harbour. It was evidently considered by the Magistrate that such en ordinance was not intended to be blindly enforced, but was to be used with discretion.

Under the heading "Public Interest," the Straits Times publishes the following lines by a Penang poet. The double-entendre hits the popular idea of the Crown Agents.

Our Government, most excellent, On public interest only bent, To pay for barbour and for dock Will laise a loan and issue stock, The costlier th' exprepriation, The more for interest pays the nation, (And in that interest by-the-bye They're taking our small dock at Prye, So let not Straits contractors grumble But, like Urinh Heep, be 'umble, True, if our local firms competed The work might sooner be completed True, that if local views were heeded Less public money would be needed. But the Crown Agents wisely know Their interests with the public's grow, The mor, the cost can be inflated The greater interest is created. The more the public money flows The more the public interest grows And so, they one and all are bent On public interest.—Excellent!

But the Simla correspondent of the Dail Mail has himself misapprehended the purport of the published despatches, and hence we find him gravely advising Lord Minto to take such steps as will result in the total abolition of any authority which can check the Commander-in-Chief. He suggests that Lord Kitchener should be his own Military member. This is even going further than Lord Kitchener himself dared to go. Lord Curzon's whole point was that the Commander-in-Chief was attempting to establish a military despotism by limiting the powers of the Military Member. The Viceroy accepted the appointment of a Military Supply Member with a very ill grace, and as we have seen, he resigned rather than have a weak man. But to have no Supply Member at all and to have Lord Kitchener acting in all the capacities of Commander-in-Chief, War Minister, and Military Member would be to add insult to injury.

THE P. AND O.'S NEW LINER.

TRIAL TRIP OF THE S.S. "MOOLTAN."

The latest addition to the P. and O. Company's splendid fleet belongs to a class known as the "M's," from the initial letter of their names, but she presents several novel features. Like her sister ships, the Moldavia and Mongolia, she was built by Messrs. Caird and Company, of Greenock. Her gross tonnage is 9,620, her dimensions 520 feet in length by 58 beam, and 334 in depth. She is propelled by quadruple expansion engines, from the works of Mossrs. Billis and Morcom, giving an indicated h.p. of 12,000, and a tested speed of 18 knots. Steam is supplied from four single and as many double Scotch boilers, fitted with How-Insurance Company, and for $12,000 in the den's forced draught, the fans being driven by electric motors. Electricity is employed for Meiji Insurance Company. The value of the lighting the vessel, as well as for an array of stock on the premises, so far as can be ascertained ventilating fans, which will rob the Red Sea of its terrors. The second-class quarters aft are as replete with all the essentials of comfort and even luxury. This great company caters mainly on the afternoon of the 9th instant for passenger traffic; but the needs of shippers have not been overlocked. The Mooltan has ten large holes with dynamite. FREIGHTS TO CHINA.

It is stated on good authority that representatives of the leading Suez steamship Dr. Hunter's evidence proved that death in companies and Trans-continental lines have decided to raise the rates on cotton goods shipped to China. The new rates are expected to go into effect July 1st, 1906, and will be as follows from Southern mill points: - Overland rates, $125 per 100lb.; and via Suez Canal. 624c. The present Suez Canal rate is 22s. 6d. or about $5.624c. The measurement rate of cost will be abandoned entirely for the basis of weight, as the latter is considered more just. Owing to excessive competitions, the rates on merchandise sent to China have been going steadily down for about three years, and at one time were as low as $2.50 per ton. It is understood that the contemplated increase will not affect the big trade with China machinery, tools, implements, and canned goods, but only cotton goods. so, Chinese cannot be so very different from

English after all. In a long, narrow room, lighted from the roof and by two windows at one end, is housed a school of 30 or 40 little

Chinese boys between six and thirteen years

A NELSON "FIND" AT EXETER

A representative of the Naval and Military Record has had the opportunity of inspecting what has every appearance of being a genuine letter from Lord Nelson which has recently been discovered at Easter by Mr. L. Brown, of Mary Arches-street, Exeter. It is of further interest by reason of the somewhat lengthy postcript which was added to the letter by Lady Hamilton, and is addressed to Admiral Hallowell, whose name figures frequently in the published lefters of Lord Nelson to Lady Hamilton. The letter is written from Leghorn on June 27th, 1800, and informs Admiral trifle faded, but is, with one exception, due to tinted sheet of letter paper.

Its discovery came about in a somewhat peculiar manner. About ten years ago an auction sale was held at Heavitree, Exeter, and a number of old books fell to the hammer for the small sum of two shillings. Some six weeks afterwards the purchaser was looking through the books when the letter fell from between the leaves of one of them. On reading it the only importance he attached to it was to have it framed with glass on each side, and it has ever since been hanging in his kitchen, apparently unnoticed, until Mr. Brown's attention was drawn to it, and he recognised its importance. The letter has been closely examined by a number of experts in Exeter, who are all of opinion that it is genuine, and it is this week to inspection.

EUROPEANS, ASIATICS, AND MISSIONARIES. According to Mr. Samuel Smith, M.P., a grave hindrance to Christian missions in India is the "immodest attire" of English ladies in the chi-f cities of the Indian Empire. As an illustration of this hindrance to the spread of the Gospel, Mr. Smith gives the following : -"The Indian people, and, indeed, all Oriental nations that I know of, have a deep sense of the importance of female modesty.
